Dreamhost are a small company established since April 1997 who started life with just one single Pentium 100 web server. Today they have grown to over 700 servers, each with over 50 times the processing power of the single server they started out with and now host over 200,000 websites in a state of the art data centre. One thing has never changed during there rise and that is the fact that they have always made it number one priority to deal with every client as a human being and friend, which they claim is the real reason behind there success.

User review:

- Submitted By : Kevin. Dreamhost has provided me with some of the most excellent service I have ever received. It is true that they did have some problems with email and things but they have been very honest about what they are working on. They admit when they have trouble and they do seem like they really want to help. I am using a ton of the space provided to me and the only issue I have seen is with slow load times every now and again. Otherwise, the service is great and the amount of space/bandwidth for the price is even better! Highly recommended!

Bandwidth and web space problems are now a thing of the past and there is effortless hosting of an unlimited number of domains on the same plan. I've not noticed any downtime so far (maybe I've been lucky with the box I'm on - and I don't use their mail server so can't comment on that.) Help response isn't instant, but it's the only hosting company I've come across where first level support comprehends the problem first time round. (There's a FAQ and a users' forum if technical info is needed.) The company is refreshingly honest about any problems it's having and what it's doing about them, and it puts out the funkiest newsletter. They really do appear to care!

However, now, you will see a lot of negative reviews because they have had a rough summer from a reliability standpoint. I'm not exactly sure what changed or if it is going to be fixed.

I guess based on what I can tell, I believe this rough summer is going to be an exception. When Dreamhost is working, it is a steal and a joy to work with. I am hoping they have enough free cash to staff up their support and get some redundancy.

If you go to www.dreamhoststauts.com, you can see their blog of the downtime issues they have had this summer.
